Books

Packaging: The Contemporary Media, Robert G. Neubauer Nov/Dec p. 16

Principles of Package Development, Roger C. Griffiin, Jr. and Stanley Sacharow Jan/Feb p. 9

Bottles

Ranking the quality of your packaging component suppliers Jul/Aug p. 19

Guidelines for packaging in polyvinyl chloride containers May/Jun p. 10

Using high speed photography in bottle drop testing analysis Sep/Oct p. 32

Predicting stacking strength of plastic bottles in corrugated cases May/Jun p. 32

Cans

A guide to common can sizes May/Jun p. 31

A simple technique for routine analysis of solvent residues in can linings May/Jun p. 24

Nomograph for computing volume, in cubic inches, of small round cans Jan/Feb p. 23

Cartons, folding

Must folding cartons be 'fresh' to provide trouble-free filling? Sep/Oct p. 25

How to determine the right size tuck to use on tuck end cartons Jul/Aug 28

Closures

ASTM procedures for child-resistant closures Nov/Dec p. 4

Development program for a first generation child-resistant closure Sep/Oct p. 18

Color

Color: the mind expander Nov/Dec p. 17

Composites

Growth will come in two separate packaging areas Jul/Aug p. 4

Composite of paper and plastic utilizes best features of each May/Jun p. 23

Corrugated cases

Determination of anti-slip coating on paper surfaces Nov/Dec p. 9

Predicting stacking strength of plastic bottles in corrugated May/Jun p. 32

Material challenges relating to performance testing of corrugated Mar/Apr p. 33

Evolution of corrugated box specifications at P&G Jan/Feb p. 10

Design

How label and container design relates to packaging line efficiency May/Jun p. 27

Color: the mind expander Nov/Dec p. 17

Labels

Change to metric can maximize package size rationalization Nov/Dec p. 45

Regulatory patterns in hazardous product labeling Sep/Oct p. 42

How label design relates to packaging line efficiency May/Jun p. 27

Flexible packaging

Cellophane performance chart Nov/Dec p. 14

ASTM procedures for child-resistant unit packaging Nov/Dec p. 4

Thermoprocessed foods in flexible packages: transition to production Jul/Aug p. 12

A state of the art report on pouch packaging for liquids May/Jun p. 38

How to achieve high-quality seals for film overwrapping Mar/Apr p. 16

A bold new world of asceptic packaging Mar/Apr p. 6

Performance characteristics of OPP films on overwrap machinery Jan/Feb p. 13

Management

The development of self-manufacture capabilities in packaging are analyzed Nov/Dec p. 12

Need for greater professionalism in package development today Sep/Oct p. 4

How to apply the principles of value analysis to your packaging Jul/Aug p. 6

Career advancement in package management requires planning May/Jun p. 6

Communicating packaging needs to the manufacturing people May/Apr p. 30

A viewpoint on organization of the packaging department Mar/Apr p. 12

What package development men can do to improve and adapt to the changing times Mar/Apr p. 4

In-depth study of each component leads to successful development Jan/Feb p. 32

Help in removing the 'chance' from new package development Jan/Feb p. 24

Machinery

Evaluating existing machinery systems, justifying the new, Part I Nov/Dec p. 33

Must folding cartons be 'fresh' to provide trouble-free filling? Sep/Oct p. 25

Package Development, the practical journal for packaging innovators, is published bi-monthly by Scarborough Publishing Co., Ltd., Post Office Box 225, Briarcliff Manor, N.Y. 10510. Telephone (914) 941-4891. Single copies of current reprints or individual issues are $2 each, when available. Subscription rates are $10.00 per year, two years $18.
